

The Great British Bead Show
Booking form procedure.

Important information that you need to know!

Classes are now published and you have the task of choosing which projects you'd like to make. Some members are so keen they've already been in touch to reserve their hotel space for next year. However, many members approach me worried that they may not get their Journal in time to complete and return their booking form before the classes fill up. So to allay any fears you may have, here is how it all works.

To ensure everyone has the same opportunity we operate a draw system. You are given approx 6 weeks to submit your booking form, the deadline for getting your booking form to us is Sat 1st December. This period of notice should take care of any Journal delivery delays by the postal service. Payment is not an issue as if you wish, you may defer payment until February, but if you intend to come we would prefer for you to book early and pay later. This will help us decide if a class is likely to run or if it needs to be cancelled to avoid hotel penalty fees.

Selection Process:

To be fair to everyone we hold a draw for the Masterclass and any other class that is oversubscribed. To be eligible for the draw your completed form must reach us by the deadline of Sat 1st December 2016.

Bookings received after the deadline will be allocated on first come first served basis. Confirmation of places will be sent to you by 31st Jan 2017 with details of how to get to Staverton Park Hotel. You will also receive information about your chosen workshops and individual class requirements lists.
